Population and Amtrak Ridership Growth 2011-2016

Minneapolis St. Paul, MN (MSP)

Amtrak relocated service in the Twin Cities from the Midway Station to St. Paul Union Depot on May 7, 2014. Before Amtrak took over the nation's intercity passenger rail service in 1971, passenger trains to Minnesota's capital city served Union Depot. Completed in 1923, Union Depot rose on the approximate site of a previous union station, which had opened in 1881 to consolidate the passenger needs of almost one dozen railroads then serving the city. The station currently serves the Empire Builder route. In 2016, 96,539 passengers passed through the station and provided revenue valued at $9,488,921.

Cost savings from the lower risk of traveling by train vs. traveling by car:	$1,852,000
Tourist spending generated from Amtrak passengers	$460,000
Number of tourists that utilize Amtrak services	33,000
Percent of total riders that are tourists	46%
Federal taxes generated for Minnesota from tourist spending	$73,000
State taxes generated for Minnesota from tourist spending	$38,000
Local taxes generated for Minnesota from tourist spending	$13,000

* Value Added - enhancement a company or business gives its product or service before providing it to customers (value of the final outputs from Amtrak minus the value of the inputs such as raw materials).

 Local riders are defined as riders that boarded or alighted an Amtrak train in the state. May include out of state passengers transferring trains in the state.

 Rail Passenger Mile - passenger rail miles are determined by multiplying the total number of passengers by the total number of miles traveled.
