

You can take Amtrak to over 500 destinations all over America and even into Canada. The Crescent is a train that travels between New Orleans and New York City.

It passes the Washington Monument and cherry blossoms entering our nation's capital.

Some of our trains travel right next to the ocean and stop at stations on the beach.

The engineer's job is to safely and smoothly operate the locomotive for a comfortable ride.

